Civic Engagement

The ways in which people work with their communities and larger social groupings to participate in the cultural and political lifeblood of [the world].