Landis Faculty Fellows Program

The Landis Center invites faculty members from within Lafayette to serve as the Faculty Fellow for Engaged Scholarship. This program supports faculty advancing scholarship that responds to community-identified priorities and contributes to mutually beneficial partnerships. The Faculty Fellow will pursue a community-engaged research project within one of Landis' Priority Initiatives:

- Educational Access and Equity
- Food & Housing Stability
- Democratic Engagement
- Community Development

Projects must follow the Landis Center's Principles for Effective Community Partnerships:

Communication

- The partnership is created to achieve a specific purpose that may evolve over time
- Goals are shared and connected to measurable outcomes and a process of accountability
- Feedback is consistent and focused on improving outcomes

Balance of power

- Partnerships are established according to the needs and assets of both partners
- Partnerships consider the different experiences, knowledge, value systems of all partners
- Resources and benefits of the partnership are shared

Sustainability

- Partnerships recognize the social, historical, and political contexts in which they occur and align goals and outcomes to reflect them
- Partnerships plan for evolution or dissolution where appropriate

Fellowship Expectations

The Faculty Fellow for Engaged Scholarship will:

- Share findings with the campus community and submit a final report to their community partner
- Disseminate findings within their academic or disciplinary community
